

APPENDIX BPAY STATUS CODES

Pay status codes are used to establish the pay status of each member at any given time. Pay status codes can terminate all pay and allowances, credit additional allowances, withhold an allowance while crediting another, and withhold pay and allowances until a determination is made by the commanding officer as to the actual status of the member during the period of time in question. This appendix contains a listing of pay status codes with the compatible duty status code and code description.

The member's current pay status code will appear in block 26 of the LES. For example, a unit diary statement reporting a member to UA will set the pay status code to 02100, and a unit diary statement reporting from UA will return the pay status code to 00000. Pay and allowances for a UA period will be withheld from the time a "TO UA" entry is reported and will continue until a "FR UA" entry is reported. Pay and allowances withheld will be restored to the member if the UA period is excused as unavoidable.

A pay status code or pay status period that has been erroneously entered into a member's MMPA must be removed to establish proper credit for pay and allowances. The following examples show the procedures for removing erroneous pay status codes or pay status periods by unit diary statement.

EXAMPLE 1. A member is reported UA by a unit diary statement which is processed and posted to the MMPA establishing pay status code of 02100. A unit diary statement deleting as erroneous the UA statement will return the pay status code to 00000 - unrestricted handling.

EXAMPLE 2. A member is reported to and from UA by unit diary statements which are processed and posted to the MMPA establishing a pay status withholding pay and allowances. A unit diary statement deleting as erroneous the "FR UA" statement will return the pay status code to 02100 as was set by the "TO UA" statement. A unit diary statement must be reported deleting as erroneous the "TO UA" statement to return the pay status code to 00000 (unrestricted handling). This procedure will remove the erroneous pay status period from the MMPA. The delete as erroneous statements must be reported in the sequence cited above and on succeeding unit diaries.

Although UA was used in the above examples, the same procedures may be used to remove other erroneously set pay status codes and pay status periods.

Pay status codes may not be set or removed from an MMPA by reporting a unit diary statement to correct a duty status code.
